

Welcome to your FlexBasic current account statement

Here's a guide to what you'll see

If you've chosen to receive paper statements, every month we'll send you one like this. It's a record of what you've paid in and out of your FlexBasic account and will help you understand how you use your money.

Your statement information box

Shows you how much money you have in your account at the start and end of the month. Your average credit and debit balances (money going in and out of your account) help give you an idea of the typical amount of money in your account.

Your transactions

Your monthly transactions are broken down by day, shown by alternate blue and white lines, to make it easier to keep track of your finances.
